Outcome Modules Assessment Report (OMAR)

AY 2020-2022

Office of Institutional Effectiveness

Institutional Researcher in Assessment

Introduction:

        The Outcomes Module Assessment Report (OMAR) is a compilation of learning outcomes assessment data in the last two years. Information that is shared in this report demonstrates the level of competencies that students have acquired upon exiting ASCC by each academic degree programs. The OMAR supports American Samoa Community College (ASCC) practices towards improving academic curricula and assessment of student learning and student achievement.

        Campus Labs - Anthology provides Higher Education an assessment platform to assist in the collecting, compiling, and reporting of student learning outcomes. The Outcomes module platform can help provide meaningful data about our campus's learning achievements.
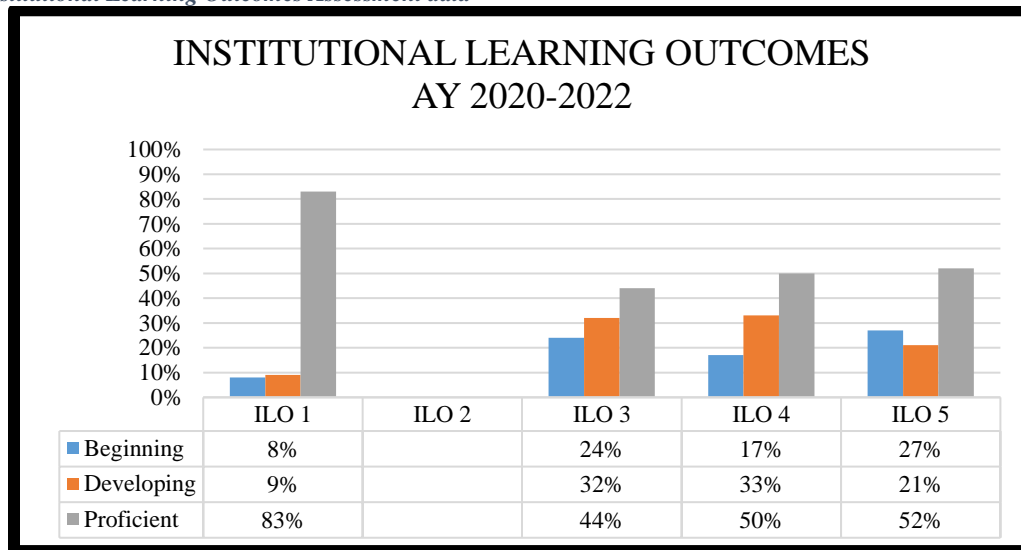

Institutional Learning Outcomes

Definition & Purpose of ILOs: Upon graduating from the American Samoa Community College, all students should acquire the skills and demonstrate proficiencies as Effective Communicators, Quantitative Competent Individuals, Critical Thinkers, Global Citizens, and Responsible Leaders.

Alignment Facts: As approved by the Curriculum Committee, the following courses have been aligned to the Institutional Learning Outcomes.

Purpose: To illustrate the data sets of ILO qualities and competencies as assessed in all ASCC program courses.

General Education Outcomes

The General Education program is the core of the undergraduate degree for all students, regardless of their major. The General Education Outcomes define what the institution wants students to be able to do upon completion of the General Education Program for an AA, AS, or B.Ed. degree. The program is organized around five domains: Communication, Information Technology Literacy, Critical Thinking, Global Awareness and Cultural Competence, and Personal Development and Responsibility. General Education courses enhance content foundational competencies in core disciplinary areas of study. Second Year General Education course requirements are determined by degree programs based on the need of content genre.

Courses highlighted in red are the original 13 General Education courses established in 2012. Other courses listed were added into the 1st Year General Education Competencies and Qualities in the 2018 review of the catalog.
